

The Drink that gives you Rabies (but in fortnite):

There is a very fizzy sparkling water drink that makes people fizz at the mouth almost like a foam at the mouth like a foam at the mouth like rabies on raccoons or other animals probably

This drink was released by a youtuber group among the likes of logan paul and ksi that had a very large and impressionable child audience.

These children drink the sparkling rabies water drink and start foaming at the mouth. Their parents' immediate thoughts were that their children had rabies but actually they just had a lot of foaming in the mouth area.

But, since these children are very impressionable in the first place, the idea itself that they have rabies from the drink given to them from their parents leads them to believe they do indeed have rabies.

The children are then taken to doctors and they come to the same conclusion and the children are placed in run down YMCA buildings and guards are kept to ensure they don't leave.

This creates an echo chamber of children believing they have rabies and thus their belief only grows stronger until the point they actually go crazy and start running around on all fours and continue destruction within the YMCA.

GAME IDEA FOUND!!!!!! airhorn.wav

You play as a psychologically manipulated rabies thinking child within the YMCA (of delaware) and your goal is to destroy things in the YMCA

Two game loops to go with this:

- top down run around and just break things for points type beat, dodge other crazed children and objects flying around
- Warioware-like game where the different parts of the YMCA are represented in micro games where the object of any given game is to destroy stuff
 - The actual means to destroy these will differ from game to game

Both are still kinda points based so this can be some kind of meter that builds up concern in the initial youtuber group that sold these fizzy drinks

Once you get to a certain point, the youtuber group makes an apology video saying that their drinks are too fizzy and that they didn't extensively test the fizzy drink, but have gotten a Mr. Beast style youtuber to make a video titled "THE FIRST PERSON TO COME TO THEIR SENSES GETS 1 MILLION VBUCKS" and since the kids are highly impressionable by this video, they all immediately come to their senses the ending scene have the Village People showing up (in costume) to the remnants of the YMCA and find one final bottle of the fizzy drink and the drink starts fizzing at the cap making hissing noise... (fade to black) (this opens room for the sequel)

- Dunk a basketball so freaky hard the rim breaks <https://i.redd.it/85w1x396z2991.gif>
 - - flat 2d side view
 - kid rollerskates up a ramp(or uses those weird square roller things)

- control the kids arm and have to get a high enough velocity? At time of impact with rim to break it
- Get urself clean - flood the bathrooms
 - Have to turn on some water spewing faucet
 - Plug any holes that could drain water
 - plug/unplug pipe to get water to other areas separated by wall
- Get a good meal - eat food
 - Have to tap really fast on the food to eat it.
 - Do not tap on the not food (or broccoli food) or else <lose condition>
- Mario party bottle shake game with the fizzy drink
 - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=KATUoxhAB5A>
- "If I am A BABY OR TODDLER I CAN... Learn a new song in Movement Programs"
 - Build up speed in "timeout corner" that skips the move function but still builds velocity by the jump they do (inspired by BLG M64 glitches)
 - Get out of the timeout corner by a certain means (could just be time) then get launched
 - <https://www.youtube.com/shorts/G-KTAAi6Jso>
- YMCA arm raising - match the glitching music video of the YMCA song
 - Button for each one
 - Controls:
 - Make Y motion: y
 - Make M motion: m
 - Make C motion: c
 - Make A motion: a
